BRYAN TALKS PEACE PLAN

New York, May 10.—William Jennings Bryan, speaking at a dinner given last night in honor of the foreign members of the International conference that is arranging the celebration of 100 years of peace among English speaking peoples, declared that the new peace plan offered by President Wilson to all nations is the latest and longest step toward peace.

"It contemplates time for investigation and deliberation," he said, "and this makes the possibility of war remote."

Mr. Bryan's subject was "Progress toward peace."

Peace for all time between the United States and Great Britain was the keynote of other addresses of the evening delivered by Lord Weardale, chairman of the English delegation; Sir Edmund Walker of Canada; Sir George Houston Reid of Australia; and Judge George Gray of Delaware. Last night's function marked the last of many that have engaged delegates here for the last week. Today they start for Boston.

Enthusiastic applause greeted all remarks that emphasized the cordial relations between the two nations and the cause of universal peace in general. The enthusiastic singing of "America," and "God Save the King," was one of the features of the evening. Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to Great Britain acted as toastmaster. At his left sat the new British ambassador, Sir Arthur Cecil Spring-Rice, and on his right M. Da Gama, the Brazilian ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps at Washington.

Mr. Bryan was introduced after the banqueters had drunk a toast to the king of England and the president of the United States.

Bryan's Speech.
The secretary of state said in part: "We have three great forces at work throughout the world, forces that work constantly and irresistibly, and every one of these forces make for peace. I bring them before you—a growing intelligence and increasing understanding of the doctrine of brotherhood and a growing power of the people to control their destinies through control of the government. "A nation must be willing to extend its hand to all those who come from any direction in the interest of peace. No national shall outstrip us in its advocacy of peace."

"No other nation is better situated or better prepared to set an example in the interest of peace than this and I am glad on this occasion to make reference to the act of our president that embodies this thought in language."

Presented Peace Plan.
"Two weeks ago yesterday," at his direction I summoned the representatives of 36 nations represented at Washington that I might for him simultaneously present through them to their governments a proposition in which the president expresses not only his willingness, but his desire to enter into agreement with every other nation great or small that so far as our nation and that contracting nation is concerned, there will be no war, no declaration, no commencement of hostilities until the question in dispute has been investigated by an international tribunal and its report made known."

"Now I believe that this proposition is a long step in the direction of peace. It does not mean to take the place of arbitration treaties—make all you can, submit to arbitration every question which you can agree to submit, but when you are through you will find at least we have found thus far, that there are certain questions that are excepted. And they are so important that they themselves become a cause of war."

"It is the purpose of this plan to close the gap and leave no question to become a cause for war. It is the belief of the president that when the treaties have been made between this nation and all other nations severally by which there will be investigations before hostilities begin, that war will become practically impossible. The time that will be allowed gives a chance for the separation of questions of fact from questions of honor and it gives a chance also for the operation of public opinion which is increasingly for peace."

"It is the hope of those who believe in the plan that when it is adopted between this nation and other nations it will be adopted by other nations between themselves until the nations of the earth will be knit together by these agreements and people will learn war no more."

Cardinal Gibbons in a letter expressing regret that he was unable to be present, said: "Let Britannia and Columbia join hands across the Atlantic and their outstretched arms will form a sacred arch of peace which will excite the admiration of the nations and will proclaim to the world the hope that with God's help the earth shall nevermore be deluged with bloodshed in fratricidal war."

MURDER CHARGE IS SUSTAINED

Brigham City, May 10.—The jury in the Cobia murder case returned a verdict yesterday morning of involuntary manslaughter. William N. Cobia was charged with murder in the first degree for shooting James N. Morris in front of his store at Rosette on the evening of January 21 last, after the two men had wrangled for some time over matters of business. There was a doubt in the testimony offered as to whether or not Cobia fired the fatal shot before or after Morris had been struck unconscious by J. W. Morris, son of the slain man, and the jury gave the defendant the benefit of this doubt.

TO ATTEMPT FLIGHT CROSS OCEAN

San Francisco, May 10.—James V. Martin, who holds both a pilot's license for the air and a master's license for the seas, announced here on his arrival from the Hawaiian Islands that he will attempt next August to cross the Atlantic from New Foundland to Ireland, in competition for Lord Northcliffe's prize of $15,000 for the first aviator to make the passage inside 70 hours. With him will be his wife, formerly Miss Lillian Irvine, who says she was the first English woman to fly.

Captain Martin until recently commanded a vessel plying the South seas. He has been an aviator for three years. The air line he will attempt to follow is 1,635 miles long and he expects to make a non-stop flight. In a special escape from the Hawaiian Islands, he was allowed, his estimate of the time necessary is 24 hours, which calls for an average speed slightly better than 68 miles an hour.

CONFESSION OF CONVICT

Peoria, Ill., May 10.—Clyde Stratton, the convict who made a sensational escape from the government prison at Leavenworth on March 29 by crawling through a half mile of sewer and who is now under arrest at Pekin, Ill., on a charge of burglary, confessed last night that he is the man wanted at Leavenworth prison. Stratton further admitted that he was familiar with the details of the robbery of the diamond merchant, J. H. Logue, in Chicago, for which he was once arrested, and that he was an automobile bandit in Chicago for four days.

Stratton was arrested under the name of Williams a few days ago near Danvers, Ill., where he and a companion were accused of robbing a store at Mackinaw, Ill. The booty taken from the Mackinaw store was found in his possession.

Tells of His Crimes.
Stratton at first refused to talk, but finally broke down and admitted his identity. Stratton, in talking of his case, said:

"I was sent up from Indianapolis by the federal court for robbing a postoffice at McComb, Ind. I had been in the prison but a short time when I decided to make my escape through the sewer. I had confidence in this matter when I previously made my getaway from the Columbus, O. state prison on two different occasions. My first arrest occurred at Mansfield, O., and I was sent to the reformatory in 1904, but I escaped shortly afterwards. Two companions started to make the trip through the sewer at Leavenworth but after going some 50 feet turned back. I made my way through the 13-inch sewer for half a mile and finally came to the end. The sewer gas seemed to affect my two companions but it didn't affect me and I didn't feel any the worse for the trip. I secured a suit of clothes from a farmer and made my way to Chicago within a few days."

To Be Held for Other Robberies.
Stratton talked of the Logue robbery in Chicago and of the raids by the automobile bandits. He said that he tried the automobile bandit business for four nights but was not successful. He was arrested in Chicago as a suspect but was released soon. He then made his way to Peoria. He admits robbing a farmhouse near Allentown, a store at Tremont, Ill., a store at Mackinaw, Ill., and a store at Danvers, Ill.

Sheriff Fluegel stated last night that it was the intention of the Tazewell county authorities to hold the prisoner and try him on the charge of robbing the Mackinaw store. The sheriff said that he had received a telegram from the authorities at Leavenworth asking when he would turn over the prisoner, but had not replied.

WOMAN GAVE NEGRO COIN

Chicago, May 10.—An attempt to analyze the feelings held by "Bliss" Schreiber for Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, charged with bringing her to Chicago for immoral purposes, occupied the afternoon session of his trial for violating the Mann act yesterday. Miss Schreiber was questioned by counsel for Johnson. "I don't believe I ever was in love," she replied to a question. "I don't know what love is. I don't believe I had any affection for Johnson. The reason I associated with him were mostly financial—because I could get lots of clothes and some jewelry from him."

The witness testified that on her arrival in Chicago, Johnson had rented and furnished a flat for her, to be used for immoral purposes and that she once gave the pugilist $20.

DEMOCRATS HEED ORDER

Washington, May 10.—The Democratic congressional committee met last night to re-organize for the next national campaign. The keynote of the meeting was sounded by a statement read by Representative Lloyd of Missouri, the retiring chairman of the committee, explaining President Wilson's position regarding the work of administration views to which President Wilson gave his approval, made it clear that the president had no preference of candidates for chairmanship of the committee and set forth that the main idea was to accomplish effective work by united action in the coming campaign and that senators should be among the members of the congressional committee, inasmuch as various states have provided for popular vote for United States senators.

Mr. Lloyd presided. He had already announced that he was not a candidate for re-election.

Some of these instrumental in bringing about the meeting urged the importance of providing for a great campaign of publicity in support of the Underwood tariff revision bill. They favored sending to the country through the country newspapers statements regarding the party record on the bills, among other things, the differing views of the minority in the house on the tariff.

STATISTICS ON JAPS IN STATE

Sacramento, Cal., May 10.—A new bill, providing for a census of the Japanese population of California and for the gathering of information and statistics concerning the class and acreage of lands held by them, was introduced in the senate yesterday by Senator Caminetti under suspension of the rules.

KERN SEEKS AN INQUIRY

Washington, May 10.—Senator Kern's resolution for a federal investigation of conditions accompanying the strike of the West Virginia coal miners was debated in the senate for more than an hour yesterday, but was not acted upon.

A vote probably will be reached at the next session on Tuesday. Senator Kern is hopeful that the resolution will be adopted, but some senators were inclined to doubt the ability of the majority leader to put it through. Under the resolution as amended and laid before the senate the committee on education and labor would be empowered to determine whether peonage exists in the West Virginia fields; whether access can be had to postoffices in the strike region; whether the commissioner of labor could settle the strike and whether any persons have been convicted in violation of the laws of the United States.

Mr. Kern and Senators Chilton and Goff of West Virginia spoke on the resolution. Senator Chilton declared that in view of the publicity given the proposal to investigate he would not oppose its passage but later would move to amend it. Senator Goff opposed its adoption in vigorous fashion.

Attacks Hatfield.

Senator Kern made a short speech in which he attacked Governor Hatfield of West Virginia in a sarcastic vein. He read into the record a published interview with the governor in which that official was quoted as declaring that Mr. Kern was "lying when he made certain published statements concerning the strike. The senator charged that West Virginia's strike district was under martial law and that men were tried and convicted there under a sweeping order of the governor by a commission of militia officers and not in the courts. "We have the spectacle," he added, "of the governor of a great state proclaiming his purpose to proceed in his lawless course, defying all the limitations in his power provided by the constitution."

LIVED TO 108 BY SMOKING A PIPE

Atlanta, Ga., May 10.—One hundred and eight years of life have weathered up from the pipe of Maria Tom, an ancient of ancient among the gypsy tribes. If the pipe escapes breaking, she can see no obstacle to indefinite life. She is engaged now upon smoking herself into as many years as the prophet lived. She gives Madame Nicotine full credit for her longevity, and advises all women who would be young when they are old to woo the subtle goddess of tobacco.

Maria Tom is 108 years old by the records of her tribe. She seems scarcely more than 60, with her smooth face and quiet eyes. She is the ancient mother of the tribe, and an oracle to whom all give heed. She tells the fortunes of the young men and the maid-ens when the tribe pitches its tents to rest and trade horses. She will even consent to counsel outsiders if the itching of her palm is quieted with silver before she speaks her words of wisdom.

And after all the gist of her advice is to smoke a pipe. Her long life, she firmly believes, has come from the mellow briar that is constantly between her teeth. Her advice to girls who prefer long life to delicate complexion is to smoke. The pipe is the thing. No cigars or cigarettes for her. Keep a pipe constantly between your lips, counsels Maria Tom, and your years may well be long in the land which has been given you. She intends to live as long as her pipe endures.

INVESTIGATE THE PACIFIC PHONES

Washington, May 9.—C. J. Smythe of Omaha, formerly attorney general of Nebraska, was today appointed special assistant to Attorney General McReynolds to investigate the telephone situation on the Pacific coast, particularly in Washington and Oregon. Charges of violation of the Sherman anti-trust law have been filed and some investigation already has been made at Portland and Seattle. The situation is intricate and Attorney General McReynolds decided to make an extensive investigation to develop the facts which revolve around a fight between the so-called telephone trust and independents.

U. OF U. BUILDING DESTROYED BY FIRE

Salt Lake, May 10.—Fire of unknown origin caused damage estimated between $5000 and $7250 to the foundry and blacksmith shop and an ell of the mechanical laboratory at the University of Utah shortly after noon yesterday. The shop, with its paraphernalia, was totally destroyed and it is said repairs to the ell of the mechanical laboratory will cost at least $1250.

Repairs and rebuilding will commence immediately. Extensive improvements will be made over the old foundry and blacksmith shop.
